Thank You ••••••

We are grateful for the opportunity to continue meeting the mental health needs of the foster, adoptive and guardianship community. It is an honor to hold the stories of joy and the stories of pain for the hundreds of families we worked alongside in 2022. We look forward to the growth 2023 will bring.

CONNECTING WITH Therapy & Advocacy

Adoption-competent mental health services are the single greatest unmet need in the adoption community. FHH understands the unique challenges families formed by foster care, adoption and guardianship face. Our mental health services are adoption competent, evidence-based, family-focused, and traumainformed.

CONNECTING WITH Parent Support

Parent and caregiver preparation, training and ongoing support are identified protective factors for adoption instability. FHH creates and strengthens these protective factors within families all over Oklahoma with family support events, classes and coaching.

CONNECTING WITH Adoption Competent Professional Training

FHH is Oklahoma's training hub for adoption competent mental health providers. Regularly providing this training ensures Oklahoma's adoption kinship network has improved access to competent therapists. 100% of therapy participants achieved improved emotional outcomes.

79% of therapy participants report having better family relationships overall.

Over 5,200 hours of therapy services provided to 366 clients and their families.

Monthly support nights impacted between 95-243 foster, adopt, and guardianship parents each month.

- 2 new partner sites for parent support training events.

training participants communicatepositive changes in clinical practice as a result of learning.

clinicians grew their adoption-competent practice, engaging in 72 hours of continuing education.

"Both of my boys have learned how to accept love...and I truly wondered if that would ever happen. I have learned what is important for their felt-safety and well-being."
